Inspiring Positive Change. Growth and New Beginnings through Feng Shui

Rochiel Wallers is a Certified Feng Shui Consultant. She is an active member of Feng Shui Institute International (FSII), Nevada Holistic Chamber of Commerce (NHCC), and the International Feng Shui Guild (IFSG). She is a graduate of the Feng Shui Institute of America (FSIA), and has trained in Pyramid Feng Shui, Black Sect Tantric Buddhism, Compass School, and Land Form since 1995. She is the first Feng Shui practitioner to earn such combined credentials in the Las Vegas area. This contributes to her demand and expertise in the field of Feng Shui. She serves both residential and corporate clients.

As owner of Feng Shui-Design Solutions, Rochiel has a mission to inspire positive change, harmonious living and continuous growth in her clients' businesses and personal lives. She is available for Feng Shui Consulting, Home Staging, and Holistic Interior Decorating for the home and business.

Her extensive training in Feng Shui field has been combined with muscle testing, psychology, quantum physics, building-biology, cultural anthropology, and primary imaging. These cutting edge techniques are based on scientific research. It reveals an individual's reactions both positive and negative to their living and working environment.

Rochiel's goal is to provide the most effective consultation for her clients, known as the science of the "person-place connection." Her primary focus is centered on the client and their unique responses within an environment. This process identifies the specific interior design solutions which best supports the client's overall health and goals.

While serving private residences, Rochiel is also available for business consultations where she expertly serves other professionals. Advisement is offered on new business locations, floor plan design, traffic flow, harmonious furniture arrangements, signage, lighting and colors that significantly enhance a business's appearance and productivity.

Business consultations are popular with Architects, Interior Designers, Realtors®, Developers, Health Care Facilities, Spas, Salons, Hotels, and Restaurants, just to name a few.

Rochiel Wallers is a licensed real estate agent. Her informative workshops and home staging consultations are popular with many real estate professionals. Her many years of real estate experience combined with her extensive knowledge of Feng Shui and home staging techniques help other real estate agents sell their properties for the best possible price and best possible price and terms.

WHAT IS FENG SHUI & WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

Feng Shui is known as the “art of placement” and is a proactive and positive approach to designing an environment to promote health, abundance and maximum well-being. The literal translation in Chinese is "wind water." Feng Shui is often misinterpreted as a religion, cult or superstitious practice. Feng Shui is a very real solution today used by people of many cultures to create the best overall environments in which to live and work. Feng Shui is not about filling your home with Chinese idols, symbols or décor. The goal of Feng Shui is to achieve healthy environment that is harmonious, inspiring, comfortable, and balanced. When you have this in your living and working environments you begin to experience positive changes in every aspect of your life.

Feng Shui is a study of science, art, biology, and psychology. Feng Shui identifies the positive and negative effects an environment has on a person’s physical, mental and emotional well-being. As many psychologists have said and most people would agree; we are products of our environments. Our home and work environments have an enormous impact on our state of mind and well-being. Many are familiar with the Winston Churchill quote, "We shape our dwellings; thereafter our dwellings shape us." This is the observation that states a profound architectural truth that applies to all buildings, public and private. In the beginning, buildings reflect the qualities of the people who design and construct them. Once built, the people who live and work in them take on the qualities of the buildings they inhabit.

Feng Shui has been used by leaders such as Donald Trump, Oprah Winfrey, Steven Spielberg, Tommy Hilfiger and top leading companies such as Virgin Airlines, Nike, Bank of America, Morgan Stanley, Swiss Stock Exchange, Hilton Hotels, and Coca-Cola, just to name a few.

“I don’t have to believe in Feng Shui,
I do it because it makes me money.”
-Donald Trump

Many people today spend an average of 80% to 90% of their time indoors. This is why creating a healthy environment to live and work in is so important. The goal is to create an empowering, connected and harmonious space that makes your life easier. The end result is an optimum environment that supports your personal and business goals. Prosperity and feeling good is directly related to the flow of energy in your environment.

Many Feng Shui schools practice and recognize common basic principles, such as, good design flow, the balancing of yin and yang, and the five elements in an environment. People often ask how do so many different methods being used by Feng Shui practitioners get positive results, being that there are so many approaches that at times conflict with each other in different schools of Feng Shui. The simple answer is a person’s belief system, their personal intention, and applying the Feng Shui solutions that resonate with them as your beliefs affect your reality.

Every one of us creates our reality based on both our unconscious and conscious beliefs. This statement is both a metaphysical and a scientific fact. Where your intention goes, energy flows.

As a Certified Professional Feng Shui Consultant, Rochiel believes in the importance of studying and honoring all theories and teachings of Feng Shui. She believes it is in the clients' best interest to discern the nuances of their particular culture, customs, and values first as Feng Shui creates positive change when it mirrors the client's goals, personal style, and belief system.

Have you ever walked into a home or business that just made you feel good as you walked through the space? You felt uplifted, energized and happier than normal. You knew something was different but you just could not put your finger on it. Well this is what Feng Shui feels like when it is applied properly within an environment. When your home or business contains this feel good energy it makes it easier for you to attract success. People working and living in Feng Shui environments often feel less stressed, more creative, productive and happier than normal. Feng Shui places you in better harmony with yourself and your environment and this significantly helps you to enhance your destiny and opportunities. The goal in Feng Shui is to improve your quality of life and enable you to live and achieve your fullest life potential. It is all about feeling and being the best you can be!

Customers and clients also feel better in Feng Shui environments. When you Feng Shui your business, your clients will feel more strongly inclined to want to conduct business with you over others. When you increase the energy in your space this vitality transfers to not only to the people working in the environment but also to the potential clients. Clients sense the positive energy and make the decision to do business with you over others. It is all about how you feel and how others feel around you that will determine how successful you are going to be. Prosperity and feeling good is directly related to the flow of energy in your environment. Everyone wants to feel good!

Feng Shui works and has become a solution for many that wish to design the best overall environments to live and work in. It is in demand and popular with people from many backgrounds and cultures. Feng Shui applications and BENEFITS can vary depending on the goals the client desires. You can promote weight loss or sell a home for the best possible price and terms using Feng Shui principles. You can alleviate depression and fatigue, create more career opportunities, and boost your self-esteem. You can also enhance your relationships, improve your health, and boost your business's revenue, productivity, appearance, traffic and much more. The goal is to create an empowering, harmonious, healthier, and friendlier space that simply makes life easier. The end result is an optimum environment that supports your well-being and reflects what is most important to you in your life.

Benefits of Holistic Interior Decorating Services

Holistic interior decorating is a very individualized decorating technique. It takes into consideration the client's Archityping results and elemental nature to create the healthiest environment possible to live and work in. This technique supports the uniqueness of a person's particular lifestyle, preferences and goals. Holistic interior decorating addresses all five senses, alleviates fatigue, increases productivity and mood, and improves overall health. When your environment fully engages all five senses you will feel more supported, happier and connected to your space. Feng Shui Design Solutions provides suggestions on different fabrics, textures, colors, scents, and sounds that will promote your maximum well-being when incorporated and balanced within your environment.

When offering expert advisement on specific interior decor and furnishings a person's elemental nature must be determined. A person elemental nature is specific to them and there are essential interior decorating considerations to be made depending on a client's dominate elemental nature. This elemental nature test is a popular holistic approach used to find out which elements, such as; Water, Wood, Fire, Earth or Metal are dominant in a person's current life experience and personality. An Acupuncturist balances these elements within your body and a holistic interior decorator balances these elements within your space to promote good health.

Beverly Payeff-Massey is the developer of Image Diagnostics. She developed primary imaging in 1999; her work on this imaging diagnostic technique, called "Archityping", is scientifically founded and based on research she was involved in at the Harvard University's Medical Field. The Archityping technique is used to identify how a person feels both a positively and negatively in different spaces. Using this technique helps a person to understand their physically feelings related to a space. This tool is used to help a client chose and create environments that will best support them. You will receive a holistic interior decorating report that will share with you all the essential components that should be considered or introduced into your home or work environment to support your specific needs in relations to your elemental nature and Archityping results.

Holistic interior decorating includes an evaluation of a home or business's interior electromagnetic fields. This is especially important in determining proper furniture placement as it is important not to sleep, sit or work in locations that contain high electromagnetic readings as a proactive health precaution. Dr. David Carpenter, Dean at the School of Public Health, State University of New York believes it is likely that up to 30% of all childhood cancers come from exposure to EMF's. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) warns "There is reason for concern" and advises prudent avoidance of high electromagnetic energy.

Environmental lighting applications are evaluated and addressed in-depth. Medical evidence has shown that full spectrum lighting has been proven to successfully treat SADS disorder, decrease fatigue, improve mood and counteract radiation from computer terminals, just to name a few. It is vitally important to apply the proper lighting in areas where you work the most. Feng Shui Design Solutions has information from the highest quality full spectrum lighting distributors in the market. Full spectrum lighting is not currently regulated so the standards vary as does the quality of full spectrum lighting. Feng Shui Design Solutions will educate you in the differences so you can be sure to get the best possible lighting for your environment to support your desired health benefits.

Feng Shui-Design Solutions is a registered wholesaler buyer at The Las Vegas World Market and other popular interior decor wholesale companies around the world. You can utilize our holistic interior decorating expertise and also take advantage of our wholesale pricing power. This will save you thousands! You can bypass retail pricing and use Feng Shui-Design Solutions to get wholesale pricing up front and receive FREE holistic interior design advice. Feng Shui Testimonials

I am one of those testimonials that sound too good to be true. But it IS true, and I AM a real person. I am writing because I was so amazed at how dramatically and how quickly Rochiel's suggestions have shown results in my life. I have used Feng Shui in the past...but Rochiel is who I feel is a "Master" in Feng Shui and should be taken seriously. It's like I won the dream come true lotto. Eternal Thanks Rochiel -Giovanna Godard, NYC

Feng Shui Testimonials

Three years ago, my life was in disarray; I needed a life changing event. I was going through divorce and my business was going down hill financially. I met Rochiel Wallers and learned within weeks how Feng Shui could benefit and improve my quality of life. After my Feng Shui consultation with Rochiel, my business took a turn for the best - I sold some problematic real estate to buy more profitable properties - a change I was never ready to make because of fears and uncertainty. Recently I bought a new home in the Las Vegas area and requested Rochiel as my Feng Shui Consultant as I want to ensure I continue to achieve more positive results.

Benefits of a Home Staging Consultation

Home staging consultations are a must in this market. Did you know that 76% of Realtors® recommend that a home be staged properly for sale before placing a listing in the MLS. This is because home staging saves valuable time and money. The 2003 Home Gain survey showed the cost of home staging showed a 169% return on investment. A professionally staged home incorporates simple touches which balance a room which makes it more visually appealing. This enables potential home buyers to visualize and connect to the positive feelings of living in the home. Potential buyers will tend to stay longer in a staged home and consider these homes more over others as they simply feel better to them. Staged homes stand out from the competition and therefore sell faster and for more money in most markets. Staged homes convey the impression of value and feel well taken care of to visiting Realtors, potential buyers, appraisers, and inspectors. When you professional stage a home it is a very small investment with very high returns. U.S. Housing and Urban Development statistical reports and information have shown that staged homes nationally sell 50% quicker and for 17% percent more than homes that have not been staged. Those whom do not stage a home for sale find they have to greatly reduce their price and losing enormous amounts of time and money before their homes sell which causes stress and costs thousands of unexpected extra dollars.

Below is a list on what you receive with a Home Staging Consultation

1. You will receive a detailed written home staging report prepared for you after your onsite consultation. This will list the most powerful areas in which to implement key pieces or add-ons to show your home in the best possible light.
2. A detailed evaluation is done on your home's main entrance. This is the first impression to potential buyers. Buyers form an opinion of your home in the first 15 seconds. We make sure it's positive!
3. An evaluation is done on the colors and lighting currently in your home. Recommendations will be provided based on current color therapy and lighting research. This research is supported by Harvard studies and Military research.
4. Some current furnishings, décor, and photos will be tagged for storage and suggestions will be given to create the most harmonious flow. This will allow your home to show in the best possible condition to potential buyers. You can make the recommended repairs and store your tagged items yourself and save thousands. If you wish to hire outside services you will be provided with recommendations for home repairs, movers, storage facilities, and painters.
5. Solutions will be provided to organize the space and allow for a better feel and flow and a space clearing will be done on the property to prepare it for sale.
6. An evaluation is done on all major art work and symbolism present in your home's décor. Suggestions will be given to remove or change placement of certain art to ensure your home is sending positive messages to all prospective buyers. A Certified Feng Shui home staging consultant is able to identify many subconscious messages your home is sending out that you may not be aware of. This will be explained during your onsite appointment.
7. An evaluation is done on landscape, exterior paint condition, interior paint condition and color, as well as your homes overall cosmetics and design. Solutions will be provided to make sure the home is staged properly to ensure it will be desirable to all prospective buyers.
8. You will receive unlimited e-mail and phone support.

Is Your Listings Not Selling?

WHY REALTORS® SHOULD HOME STAGE PROPERTIES WITH Feng Shui-Design Solutions

- Realtors get more satisfied clients and increase their referral base.
- Realtors close more transactions when a home shows well. Home Staging multiplies the Realtors sellers and buyers; which is working smarter not harder.
- Within 15 seconds a buyers form an opinion about a home, Home Staging makes sure it is a positive opinion.
- Home Staging allows you to negotiate from a power position.
- Home Staging gives you better photos to show which brings in more buyers.
- U.S. Housing and Urban Development statistical reports and information have shown that staged homes nationally sell 50% quicker and for 17% percent more than homes that have not been staged.
- The 2003 Home Gain survey showed the cost of Home Staging averaged a 169% return.
- Top selling Realtors® put their money where it works best. Realtors should not promise a customer's a paid doc fee, appraisal fee or a garage door opener to get business. Realtors should however invest money in staging their homes for sale. The Realtor is only paid when the home sells. When a Home Staging consultation is included by Realtors with every listing it ensures the home shows well to sell quickly and ensures the Realtors are not wasting their valuable marketing dollars.
- Join our affiliation benefits program. You can earn extra income by referring services provided by Feng Shui-Design Solutions and our company is a preferred member of the GLVAR membership benefits program. As an affiliate member Realtors® also receive a member discount of $100 off any Home Staging consultation for their listings.

Workshops and Classes Available

Popular workshops are Realtor® Information Workshops performed at a Brokerage on Feng Shui 101 Basics and how to overcome Feng Shui objections with the sale of a home or business. Many Realtors find the Feng Shui and Home Staging classes' valuable as this is where knowledge can be gained on the best Home Staging Techniques that sell homes quickly and for the best possible price and terms.

Workshops can also include, but are not limited to, private groups or parties who would like to better understand general Feng Shui principles and learn techniques that can be used and applied to a home or business to promote maximum well-being. These workshops or classes can be hosted at an individual's home or business.

Rates vary on workshop and classes depending upon subject and size of group. Contact Rochiel directly at rochiel@fengshui-designsolutions.com to discuss your specific workshop needs.

Space Clearing Consultations

Space clearing is a very effective way of clearing and rebalancing the energy in a space to leave you with a completely fresh start. This is a popular consultation done before moving into a new home or if you have recently suffered a loss.

Space clearing freshens and revitalizes your home or business. This creates a positive affect on the environment in which you live or work.

Space clearing can be done with salt, burning of sage, aromatherapy mixtures designed to clear and harmonize a space, bells and chimes just to name a few. The history of the space should be evaluated by your Feng Shui Professional to determine the best space clearing technique for your situation.

Rate for a home or business space clearing is $150 an hour with a 2 hour minimum
